The third-firing decoration, and its characteristic imitation, obtained from an intense orange enamel, production since the end of the 15th century, at the beginning of the historical period of maximum expansion of the 'Factory of Florence', encompasses many meanings that can be explored: the preciousness, the lustre, the references to the Moorish style with its reminders of Islamic culture, transited by the Maghreb and Spain, art as a vehicle of cultural contamination moving along the paths of the Mediterranean.

MMAB - Ceramics Museum di Montelupo Fiorentino
“The Ceramic of Montelupo and the Uffizi: a gallery of comparisons” organised by Lorenza Camin and Alessio Ferrari.

Since the end of the 13th century, Montelupo Fiorentino has stood out as one of the most important centres of ceramics production. In the 15th century, it reached its peak, when the artefacts of the master ceramists of the so-called ‘Fabbrica di Firenze’ were requested by the most noble Florentine families, such as the Medici family.

The exhibition proposes a dialogue between the ceramic production and two important works from the Uffizi Gallery collection: the portrait of Pope Leo X by Bronzino the painting by Jacopo Chimenti, known as l'Empoli, entitled Larder with a pig's head and foot.

"Rosso di Montelupo Deconstructed" by Eloisa Gobbo. The site-specific installation is inspired by the Rosso di Montelupo (a basin decorated with grotesques, signed LO by the author, from the workshop of Lorenzo di Piero Sartori, dated 1509, a protagonist of the museum's collection) and is in dialogue with the masterpiece of Renaissance majolica in the Museum's Masterpieces Room.

C Factor – Ceramics in urban spaces, organised by Benedetta Falteri, Alessio Ferrari, Lorenza Camin. Works by Halima Murgia with Pauline Hosse – Hartmann and Joanna Marshall Cook (A thing that holds something else), Sète Association under the artistic direction of Andrea Maestrelli in collaboration with the Academy of Fine Arts, Prof. Anna Luppi and Prof. Michele Guido (Montelupo on Display), Alessandro Musumeci with Clara Camille J Chasse, Mariapaola Diversi and Beatrice Giovannini (Unknown writing).

Hands in clay (2023) and Montelupo Workshops (2020 - 2023). Exhibition of the workshops by the students of the Department of Architecture of the University of Florence (DIDA) coordinated by Prof. Francesco Collotti and Architect Giada Cerri.

Ceramics from Campania

A number of works by ceramists from towns in Campania are on show. On display are Daniele D'Acunto, Giuseppe Cicalese and Pierfrancesco Solimene (Cava de' Tirreni), Elisabetta D'Arienzo and Lucia Carpentieri (Vie-tri sul Mare), Elvio Sagnella (San Lorenzello).
